Health Care District's Public Service Announcements Ask the Public to “Listen to Someone You Trust” about Getting the COVID-19 Vaccine

At a time when interest in first-doses of the COVID-19 vaccine is waning at the Health Care District of Palm Beach County's mobile clinics, the agency's Chief Executive Officer is encouraging the public to listen to those they trust about their experience getting vaccinated against COVID-19.

“Thanks for your attention, but don't listen to me,” says Darcy J. Davis in one of two new Public Service Announcements. “When it comes to getting the COVID-19 vaccine, listen to someone you trust. Ask that person what convinced them to get vaccinated. Come to one of our mobile vaccine sites. Talk to our medical providers. We understand your fears and concerns. We know they're real. And we're here to listen. No pressure. We'll help arm you with the facts so you can make the choice that's right for you."

A second PSA features Charmaine Chibar, MD, Medical Director for the Health Care District's School Health Program and Pediatrics Director for the C. L. Brumback Primary Care Clinics.

"As a pediatrician, I recommend parents get their eligible kids vaccinated against COVID-19," Dr. Chibar says in the PSA. "The vaccine protects us from getting very sick. And it safeguards those under 12 who are too young to be vaccinated. So, get the shot for yourself and for the kids who can't."

The PSA includes children who say, "Do it for me." Both PSAs are recorded in Spanish by Sandra Warren, MD, MPH and in Creole by Duclos Dessalines, MD, physicians who care for adult and pediatric patients at the C. L. Brumback Primary Care Clinics.
